[APPART] L'ART DE LA MATIÈRE :
Gutaï and the post-war Japanese avant-gardes

After hosting the Bruno Decharme art brut collection, the Appart Renoma opens its doors to the Gutaï movement and to the avant-gardes of post-war Japan, displaying an exhibition that highlights Maurice Renoma's artistic commitment for spontaneous creation and the notion of matter as a means of expression.

From March 15 to April 15, 2023, a selection of artworks from artists belonging to the Gutaï and Informal movements as well as the New School of Paris and Independents will be presented by Marc David Fitoussi (Atari Arts gallery), testimony of a singularly innovative and revolutionary art which was a source of influence for many other international avant-gardes movements and which contributed to writing the history of the 20th century art.

In dialogue with these powerful artworks, Maurice Renoma presents an artistic work centered on three aspects: photography, fashion and Gutai-inspired installations.

A room in the Appart will thus be dedicated to his Japanese photographs, the Solitudes, amongst the most intimate of his career: some black and white snapshots taken in Japan in a drawing style, showing his perception of the economic and social crisis in the country.

For its 30th edition, the Salon du Vintage pays tribute to the musical icons that marked the years '70 to the '90: the legendary Renoma striped blazer worn by Serge Gainsbourg could not be missed!

See you on February 11 and 12, 2023 at the Carreau du Temple (Paris 3) to admire it alongside other iconic pieces such as the androgynous outfits of David Bowie from the Ziggy Stardust period, the dresses with conical breasts signed Jean-Paul Gaultier for Madonna and the goofy style of American rapper Flavor Flav of the band Public Enemy.
